

More Than 100 Speakers to Present at Whole Plant Expo

With seven conference tracks, seven digital exhibit halls, a nonprofits pavilion, networking events and more, Whole Plant Expo delivers the year's most complete view of medical cannabis and hemp

PORTLAND, Ore. ? August 19, 2020 /Canna Newswire/ ?]Whole Plant Expo (www.wholeplantexpo.com) today announced its seven-track conference program with more than 100 expert speakers including some of the biggest names in medical cannabis and hemp. Whole Plant Expo is a first-of-its-kind online event, bringing together an ecosystem of organizations and communities for a comprehensive examination of endocannabinology and the use of cannabinoids for medicine, health and wellness. Whole Plant Expo runs online from October 1 to November 30, with a dynamic program showcasing new content and activities throughout its 61-day run. Tickets range from $29 for Patients and Caregivers to $179 for professionals, and can be purchased at EventHi (<https://wpe20.co/tickets>).

?We are very impressed by the vision and drive of the Whole Plant Expo team,? said Ken Watkins, publisher of the American Journal of Endocannabinoid Medicine (AJEM). ?AJEM is excited to be part of Whole Plant Expo, showcasing 20 speakers in our own AJEM-produced conference program.?

The Whole Plant Expo Conference

Five conference tracks are produced by Whole Plant Expo, with content curated for key audiences: Patients and Caregivers, Medical Professionals, Researchers, Business, and Industry Professionals. The AJEM-produced program represents a cross section of medical cannabis authorities, from professional athletes who experience relief from cannabinoid treatments, to doctors who have studied the plant for years, to subject matter experts in the fields of law, litigation, and reimbursement. Whole Plant Access for Autism is producing the WPA4A Conference on Cannabinoids and Autism as a separately ticketed add-on event.

Whole Plant Expo is fortunate to have ecosystem superstars kick off each conference program as keynote speakers:

Patients & Caregivers: Marvin Washington - Super Bowl XXXIII champion; Co-Founder of Athletes for CARE; and director on the board of Isodiol?

Medical Professionals: Dr. Janice Knox, MD - CEO and Co-Founder, American Cannabinoid Clinics?

Researchers: Dr. Adie Rae, PhD - Co-Founder, Smart Cannabis?

Business: Mara Gordon - Founder, Aunt Zelda's? and Zelira Therapeutics?

The Whole Plant Expo Digital Exhibit Hall

From mobile apps to cultivation technology to medical services, the Whole Plant Expo exhibit hall already features dozens of companies from a wide array of B2B products and services. A fast-growing consumer expo will offer attendees a diverse selection of CBD and other cannabinoid products for purchase from brands including A.F.C - Advocates For Cannabis?, Aunt Zelda's?, Empower BodyCare?, GoodFOR?, and VETCBD?.

The Whole Plant Expo exhibit hall includes seven exhibit zones to allow attendees to easily find relevant businesses and organizations. These zones include:

- CBD and cannabinoid products
- Software and apps
- Testing equipment and labs
- Cultivation products and services

- Packaging, branding and marketing
- Professional services
- Extraction and manufacturing

Nonprofits Pavilion

A separate exhibit hall is devoted to registered nonprofit organizations, assisting these organizations in sharing their missions, recruiting new members and activists, and raising important funds. A silent auction will run throughout Whole Plant Expo raising funds, either collectively or individually, for participating nonprofits. The Nonprofits Pavilion today includes:

[American Academy of Cannabinoid Medicine\]](#)
[Athletes for Care\]](#)

[Minority Cannabis Business Association\]](#)
[Whole Plant Access for Autism\]](#)
